Tuesday, 03 November 2026	1000 - 1130	Third Sector Lab	Responsible AI in practice: a practical introduction for third sector professionals Third sector organisations are under real pressure to do more with less. AI promises innovation and efficiency, but its use consumes significant resources, comes with a real human cost and carries its own risks. Charities across our networks have identified this as an area where they need significant guidance and support, leading us to this timely and crucial collaboration with AI governance expert, Alba Sort. Alba will lead a practical 90-minute masterclass to help you understand what makes AI different from the tools that came before it, and how good governance can help you make better use of AI. You'll leave with a greater awareness of what responsible AI means in practice, and actionable steps to use AI safely, confidently, and in line with your mission. Tuesday, 10 November 2026	1300 - 1400	Third Sector Lab	Compassion by design: bringing trauma-informed thinking to your content Charities, by their nature, are there to help people who are navigating some of the hardest moments of their lives. Which means charity content needs to speak to an audience that's upset, stressed, anxious, and sometimes in emotional turmoil. Trauma-informed content specialist Jo Levy believes this is about much more than using kind words. Her approach centres trauma-informed thinking and building it into everything you create from the start. This workshop introduces trauma-informed thinking as a practical approach – a set of principles that help you create resources, web pages, and communications that meet people where they are. Drawing on real-world professional experience, Jo will share the challenges, decisions, and techniques behind building content that works when it matters most. Through a mix of real examples, short practical exercises, and group discussion, you'll leave with concrete ideas you can apply to your own content straight away. The training is followed by a dedicated Q&A session. Friday, 20 November 2026	11:00 - 12:00	Renfrewshire Council	Focus on Phishing Phishing attacks are one of the most common ways cyber criminals steal personal information, money, and online accounts. This awareness session will help you recognise and avoid the latest phishing scams across email, text messages, phone calls, social media, and QR codes. You'll learn how to spot the warning signs of phishing, understand the tactics criminals use to manipulate people, recognise AI-powered scams, and safely check links, websites, and messages before taking action. The session also covers protecting your passwords and online accounts, the benefits of Multi-Factor Authentication (MFA), what to do if you think you've been targeted, and where to report scams and find trusted cyber security advice. Designed for people of all technical abilities, this session provides simple, practical steps to help you stay safe online, protect your family and finances, and build the confidence to recognise and respond to phishing attempts in everyday life.
